SECTION 1.02 LAWS

A. The United States Constitution

The United States Constitution was ratified in 1789. It is the supreme law of our country, setting the framework for our federal government. The Constitution is comprised of a preamble, seven articles, and 27 amendments. The first 10 amendments are known as the Bill of Rights. Later amendments helped to shape civil and voting rights by extending the franchise to women, 18-year-olds, and prohibiting states from denying the right to vote based upon a citizen's race or ability to pay a poll tax.

1. Federal Elections – Article I, Section 4

“The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but Congress may at any time make or alter such Regulations...”.

This constitutional provision authorizes each state to prescribe the time, place, and manner of holding elections, but it also grants Congress the authority to preempt such state laws. For example, Congress exercised its authority under this provision by establishing a uniform date for federal elections – the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of every even-numbered year.¹

2. The Right to Vote

B. The Ohio Constitution

The Ohio Constitution was adopted in 1851 and amended extensively in 1912. It is the basic law of our state, setting the framework for our state government and establishing rights for the people of Ohio. The preamble states:

“We, the people of the State of Ohio, grateful to Almighty God for our freedom, to secure its blessings and promote our general welfare, do establish this Constitution.”

The Ohio Constitution contains several provisions that are relevant to administration of elections. The initiative and referendum process can be found in Article 2. Article 5, Elective Franchise, establishes the qualifications of an elector and term limits for Ohio legislators. Other articles contain provisions related to filling a vacancy in public office.

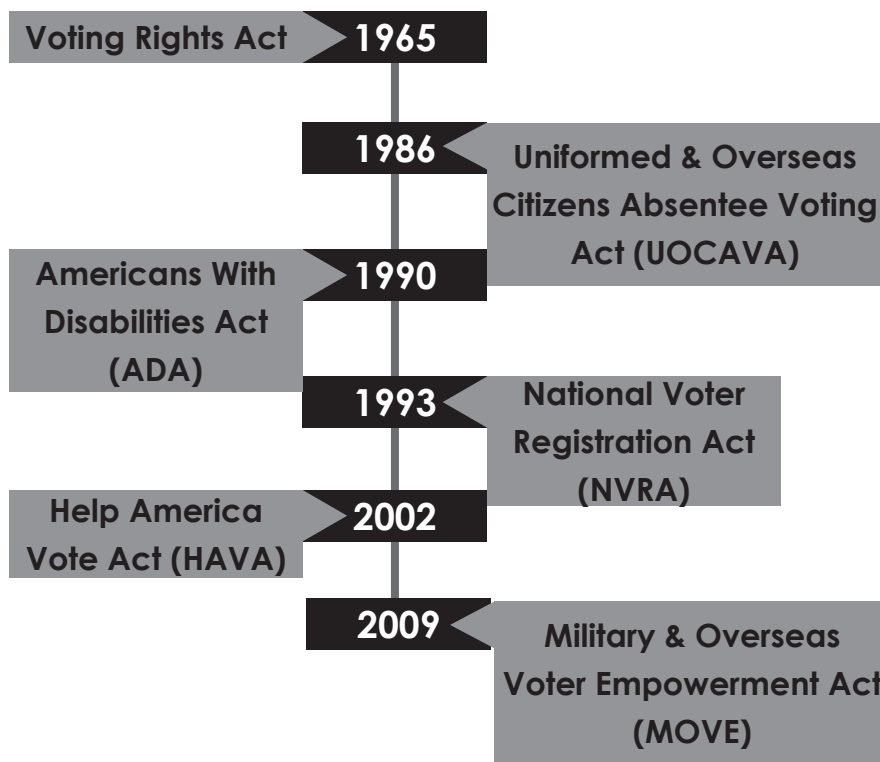

The Ohio Constitution is cited throughout this manual as “Ohio Const.” followed by the article and section. You may use the hyperlinks to access the section being cited. You also may access the full text of the Ohio Constitution on the Secretary of State’s website, www.OhioSecretaryofState.gov.

C. Federal Laws

In addition to state law, there are several federal laws that also govern the administration of elections, including the Voting Rights Act,² the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, the Military and Overseas Voter Empowerment Act,³ the Americans with Disabilities Act,⁴ the National Voter Registration Act,⁵ and the Help America Vote Act.⁶

Federal laws are cited throughout this manual as “U.S.C.A.” followed by the section number.

D. State Law

1. Ohio Revised Code

The Ohio Revised Code is a compilation of all of the statutes of Ohio. It is organized by subject matter into titles and then broken down into chapters within each title. Statutes pertaining to elections can be found in Title 35, which contains 15 chapters. However, there are statutes located in other titles of the Revised Code that are relevant to elections. For example, Title 57 contains statutes prescribing ballot language for tax levies, and Title 43 contains statutes pertaining to local liquor options.

Sections of the Ohio Revised Code are cited throughout this manual as “R.C.” followed by the section number. You may use the hyperlinks to access the statute being cited. You also may search the entire Ohio Revised Code via LAWriTer at <http://codes.ohio.gov/orc/>.

2. Ohio Administrative Code

The Ohio General Assembly often charges an office or agency with implementing the details of a law through administrative rule. Administrative rules generally contain details considered too complex to be included in statute. The process for adopting an administrative rule is prescribed by statute, and each administrative rule is reviewed by the Joint Committee on Agency Rule Review (JCARR) to ensure that an office or agency has not exceeded its authority in enacting the rule.

The Secretary of State has adopted several administrative rules, which are contained in chapter 111 of the Ohio Administrative Code.

Administrative rules are cited throughout this manual as “O.A.C.” followed by the chapter and rule number. You may use the hyperlinks to access the rule being cited. You also may search the entire Administrative Code via LAWriter at <http://codes.ohio.gov/oac/>.

3. Municipal & County Charters

Article XVIII of the Ohio Constitution provides that any municipality – which either is a city or a village (R.C. 703.01) – may frame, adopt and subsequently amend a charter that provides a limited form of home rule government. Additionally, Article X of the Ohio Constitution provides that the electors of any county also may frame and adopt or amend a charter detailing its government. For details on the process for framing a municipal or county charter, please refer to the Ohio Ballot Questions and Issues Handbook.

A county board of elections is encouraged to consult with the legal counsel for the chartered municipality or county whenever a question arises on a charter provision.

4. Opinions of the Ohio Attorney General

The Ohio Attorney General provides written opinions to public officials on legal issues arising in the course of their duties. Though these opinions are not binding law, they provide advice and are useful in guiding public officials.⁷

Occasionally, local election officials are asked to provide guidance to public officials or employees regarding the compatibility of public offices or positions. The Ohio Attorney General has provided numerous opinions on these matters. A county board of elections or local election official with questions regarding whether certain offices or positions are compatible is encouraged to consult the Attorney General's opinions and private legal counsel for advice.

Attorney General opinions are cited throughout this manual as "the year the opinion was issued] Op. Att'y. Gen. No." followed by the opinion number. You may use the hyperlinks to access the opinion being cited. You also may search the opinions by accessing the Ohio Attorney General's website, <http://www.ohioattorneygeneral.gov>.
